Part I. Introducing Information Architecture
1. Defining Information Architecture	3
A Definition	4
Tablets, Scrolls, Books, and Libraries	6
Explaining IA to Others	8
What Isn't Information Architecture?	9
Why Information Architecture Matters	11
Bringing Our Work to Life	12
2. Practicing Information Architecture	16
Do We Need Information Architects?	17
Who's Qualified to Practice Information Architecture?	18
Information Architecture Specialists	22
Practicing Information Architecture in the Real World	23
Information Ecologies	24
What Lies Ahead	27
3. User Needs and Behaviors	28
The "Too-Simple" Information Model	29
Information Needs	30
Information Seeking Behaviors	32

Part II. Basic Principles of Information Architecture

4. The Anatomy of an Information Architecture	39
Visualizing Information Architecture	39
Information Architecture Components	46
5. Organization Systems	50
Challenges of Organizing Information	50
Organizing Web Sites and Intranets	55
Organization Schemes	55
Organization Structures	64
Creating Cohesive Organization Systems	74
6. Labeling Systems	76
Why You Should Care About Labeling	77
Varieties of Labels	80
Designing Labels	92
7. Navigation Systems	106
Types of Navigation Systems	107
Gray Matters	108
Browser Navigation Features	108
Building Context	110
Improving Flexibility	111
Embedded Navigation Systems	112
Supplemental Navigation Systems	121
Advanced Navigation Approaches	127
8. Search Systems	132
Does Your Site Need Search?	132
Basic Search System Anatomy	135
Choosing What to Search	137
Search Algorithms	144
Presenting Results	149
Designing the Search Interface	163
Where to Learn More	174

9. Thesauri, Controlled Vocabularies, and Metadata	176
Metadata	176
Controlled Vocabularies	177
Technical Lingo	187
A Thesaurus in Action	188
Types of Thesauri	193
Thesaurus Standards	196
Semantic Relationships	198
Preferred Terms	200
Polyhierarchy	202
Faceted Classification	204

Part III. Process and Methodology

10. Research	211
Process Overview	211
A Research Framework	213
Context	213
Content	219
Users	226
Participant Definition and Recruiting	230
User Research Sessions	233
In Defense of Research	240
11. Strategy	243
What Is an Information Architecture Strategy?	244
Strategies Under Attack	245
From Research to Strategy	247
Developing the Strategy	248
Work Products and Deliverables	252
The Strategy Report	257
The Project Plan	267
Presentations	267
12. Design and Documentation	270
Guidelines for Diagramming an Information Architecture	271
Blueprints	272
Wireframes	283

Content Mapping and Inventory	289
Content Modeling	293
Controlled Vocabularies	298
Design Sketches	300
Web-Based Prototypes	301
Architecture Style Guides	302
Point-of-Production Architecture	303
Administration	304

Part IV. Information Architecture in Practice

13. Education	307
Chaos in Education	307
A World of Choice	308
But Do I Need a Degree?	309
14. Ethics	311
Ethical Considerations	311
Shaping the Future	314
15. Building an Information Architecture Team	315
Destructive Acts of Creation	316
Fast and Slow Layers	316
Project Versus Program	318
Buy or Rent	319
Do We Really Need to Hire Professionals?	320
The Dream Team	321
16. Tools and Software	323
A Time of Change	323
Categories in Chaos	324
Questions to Ask	330

Part V. Information Architecture in the Organization

17. Making the Case for Information Architecture	333
You Must Sell	333
The Two Kinds of People in the World	334

Running the Numbers	334
Talking to the Reactionaries	339
Other Case-Making Techniques	341
The Information Architecture Value Checklist	344
A Final Note	345
18. Business Strategy	346
The Origins of Strategy	347
Defining Business Strategy	348
Strategic Fit	350
Exposing Gaps in Business Strategy	352
One Best Way	353
Many Good Ways	353
Understanding Our Elephant	355
Competitive Advantage	357
The End of the Beginning	358
19. Information Architecture for the Enterprise	360
Economies Don't Always Scale	361
"Think Different"	362
The Ultimate Goal	363
A Framework for Centralization	366
Timing Is Everything: A Phased Rollout	371
Strategy Versus Tactics: Who Does What	376
A Framework for Moving Forward	379

Part VI. Case Studies
20. MSWeb: An Enterprise Intranet	383
Challenges for the User	383
Challenges for the Information Architect	385
We Like Taxonomies, Whatever They Are	386
Benefits to Users	407
What's Next	411
MSWeb's Achievement	412
21. evolt.org: An Online Community	413
evolt.org in a Nutshell	414
Architecting an Online Community	414

The Participation Economy	415
How Information Architecture Fits In	425
Trouble Spots for Online Communities	425
The “Un-Information Architecture”	428
Appendix: Essential Resources	429
Index	441
