

Contents

Contributing authors	vii
Preface	ix
1
Introduction Winston W. Chang and Seiichi Katayama	1
I
Basic issues of imperfect competition in international trade	13
2
Theory and policy of trade with imperfect competition Winston W. Chang and Seiichi Katayama	15
3
The gains from free trade under imperfect competition Murray C. Kemp and Masayuki Okawa	53
4
On the behavior of monopoly in general equilibrium trade models Makoto Tawada and Masayuki Okawa	63
5
The international diffusion of the fruits of technical progress under imperfect competition Murray C. Kemp and Masayuki Okawa	79
II
Trade policy issues	99
6
Demand behavior and import policy Ronald W. Jones	101
7
Elimination of firm and welfare under international oligopoly Sajal Lahiri and Yoshiyasu Ono	109 v
vi	CONTENTS
8
Intermediate input dependency, technology catch-up, and strategic Trade Policy Winston W. Chang and Ki-Hong Park	121
9
Tariff protection, imperfect competition, and time consistency Suezo Ishizawa	143
10
Imperfect competition, intra-industry trade, and trade policy Yasuo Uekawa	159
11
Dynamic effects of subsidies on output and R&D in an international export rivalry model Takao Ohkawa and Koji Shimomura	175
III
Trade liberalization and structural issues	185
12
Endogenous dualistic structure, Marshallian externalities, and industrialization Michihiro Ohyama and Yoshihiko Fukushima	187
13
Intercountry gaps in increasing-returns-to-scale technologies and the choice among international economic regimes Katsuhiko Suzuki	207
14
Retaliatory mechanisms for eliminating trade barriers: aggressive unilateralism vs. GATT cooperation Kathryn E. Spier and David E. Weinstein	231
15
The impact of EC92 on the third country: a simple analytical framework under imperfect competition Junichi Goto	249
Index	267